Power

We are most appreciative of and thankful for your encouragement and support, especially during this COVID-19 crisis, which has put a financial strain on our life-saving work. We had to lay-off all of our outside help, leaving Brit and myself to run the entire operation to the best of our ability. Book sales cratered when the recovery community switched from in-person to Zoom meetings and when all of our in-person seminars were cancelled. For ten months, Brit worked full time at a treatment center in order to make ends meet. She is presently working for UPS during the holidays.

We are asking for your donation so we can continue our life-saving work. Your contribution will help cover the cost of printing and distributing books, meeting leader guides, handouts, CD's and DVD's to those who otherwise could not afford to buy them. It is through your generosity that we are able to perform this service for the prisons, indigent half-way houses, and those less fortunate members of the recovery community.
